

The Truth About Virology

Let us go back 100 years in time. The AMA trashed the lives of two incredible men. Each of which invented a microscope that could see what was happening on the theoretical virus playing field, thereby proving the theory of “viral contagion” to be false.

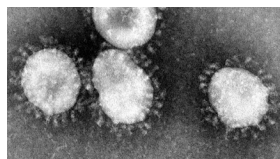

There are no viruses. There are “somatids”. Everything in life is created via polymorphism of somatids. They are everywhere, on everything organic, including rocks. They are found to be virtually indestructible and can neither be cut with diamond nor destroyed with fire or water.

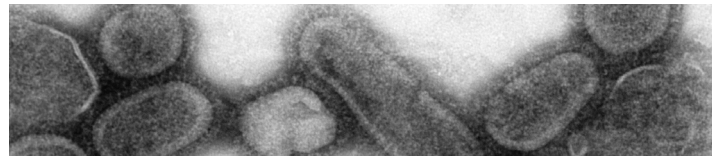

Somatids go through 16 stages of polymorphism to become DNA. Gaston Naessens filmed this activity with his Somatoscope. When something is wrong in the environment, some somatids morph into “exosomes” (the particles that are mistaken for viruses). They are created within the human body.

Virologists only have “electron” microscopes at their disposal, as they have been and continue to be deprived of the Universal

Microscope and Somatoscope that the two gentlemen mentioned above invented. An electron microscope can only view a dead, stained plate. So, it has always been speculation as to whether or not what they were seeing is a virus. In other words, the entire industry is based on theory. No virus has ever been isolated according to “Koch’s Postulates”. So when many people live in the same “suddenly altered” environment, those many people grow the same types of exosomes. It then becomes easy to mistakenly say, “It must be a contagious virus!”

The human body makes exosomes to fix a new internal problem that manifests from the environmental factors.

There is much to learn about the whole egregious “virus” marketing ploy. All the way back to Edward Jenner, who failed to prove that a virus can spread from person to person. He could not prove it, so he falsified his research. And, a new snake oil industry was born (This happened circa 1798 or thereabouts).

In 1918 doctors performed 300 experiments to try to prove that there was a contagion involved in the Spanish Flu.

They tried;

- “mouth to mouth inhalation”,
- “pus and mucous rubbed in the eyes nose and mouth of healthy people” and also,
- “injecting pus and mucous into healthy people”.

All 300 experiments failed. They could not make the Spanish Flu jump from person to person.

However, Pharma still claimed that vaccines were needed. And, they injected 12 “live-virus” vaccines (army surplus) into millions upon millions of healthy people. This action added outlandish numbers to the death toll.

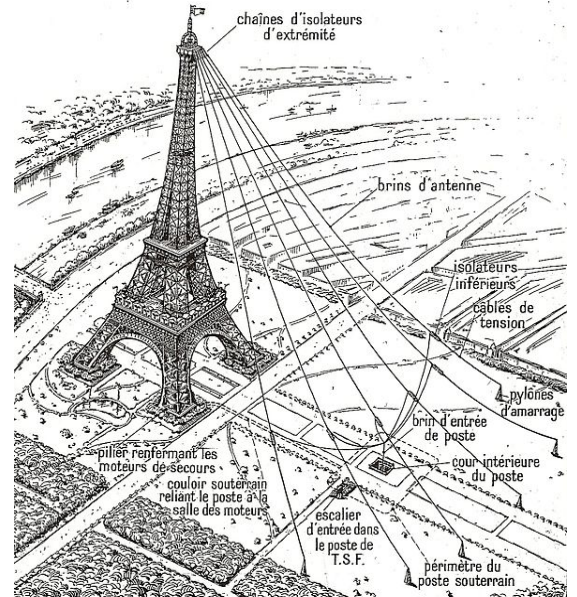

Whether one is aware of this or not, injecting a live-virus gives one the viral infection. This is the reality of the situation, and it only makes sense. That is why the polio vaccine caused egregious numbers of polio cases. And, this criminal activity continued long after polio.

Radiation as a Cause of Pandemics

Throughout modern history, there have been three occasions wherein new permanent blankets of radiation were broadcast across the earth. In each of these instances, many people all over the planet developed severe health symptoms. Many died as a result. The Spanish Flu is one of these epidemics. Just before, and right up to 1918, the earth was being freshly blanketed with thousands of kilowatts of RF frequency for the WWI effort.

Because of the widespread symptoms, the event was mistaken to be a viral infection. To which Big Pharma responded with vaccines that injected theoretical viruses and many toxins and caused many more illnesses and deaths.

It is an irony that the industry refers to them as “live-virus” when it is plain to see, even with an electron microscope, that viruses are not living organisms.

Other people’s exosomes should not be injected into a human body. Nor should anything else be injected into a human bloodstream bypassing the human body’s ability to filter foreign matter. It will all be toxic, as it is not a normal, natural occurrence, and one’s body will treat it as such.

Koch's Postulates:

1. The microorganism must be found in abundance in all organisms suffering from the disease, but should not be found in healthy organisms.

2. The microorganism must be isolated from a diseased organism and grown in pure culture.

3. The cultured microorganism should cause disease when introduced into a healthy organism.

4. The microorganism must be isolated from the inoculated, diseased experimental host and identified as being identical to the original specific causative agent.

Koch's Postulates is a series of procedures used to determine if a microbe is the cause of an infection. Since viruses are not alive, several people have introduced modifications to accommodate the different theorized characteristics. However, no one can ever satisfy postulate #1. So proof of infection by the so-called “virus” has never actually taken place.

In regards to “radiation”. The current rollout of “5G” is no less dangerous and is easily much more dangerous than any previous man-made saturation of radiation, as this new blanket of intense high power millimeter waves covers the earth, especially in densely populated areas.

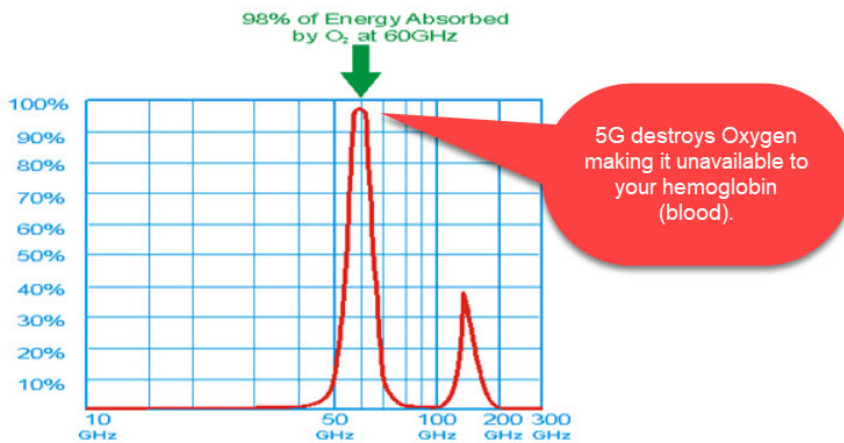

The widespread symptoms associated with 5G “60ghz” “millimeter waves” are shortness of breath, lack of Oxygen, and death.

People suffering these symptoms are mistakenly being placed on ventilators instead of receiving a simple oxygen mask. This action is causing more people to die. Many doctors have observed this reality and made public statements about it.

The function of “60 GHz millimeter wave” regarding 5G is similar to a microwave oven. The millimeter-wave oscillates or vibrates the O<sub>2</sub> (Oxygen) molecules in a human body and breaks them apart into O (Oxygen) atoms. This action deprives the hemoglobin of the needed O<sub>2</sub> (Oxygen). So the body’s cardio system, heart, and other organs suffer dire consequences.

This characteristic is the reason that Wuhan, after its new 5G rollout, started seeing people suddenly become short of breath and drop dead. The same thing happened in Guayaquil, and one must suspect many other places. Shortness of breath and people dying is the most severe response to 5G.

However, others have a higher threshold or are in areas where the millimeter-wave output levels are not as high. Many people in such areas will suffer from cardiac rhythm problems, insomnias, growth of cancer, and much more.

All of these 5G symptoms are mistaken to be an infection passed from person to person. However, that cannot be. Because real science long ago discovered and observed that viruses do not exist. Instead, exosomes grow within us to attempt to help us survive in a new caustic environment. Some of us will survive, and many will not be able to tolerate the new blanket of radiation and will perish.

There is much to learn in a short time.

Historically, corona type shots cause many to have enhanced respiratory complications and kill many of them.

In order to save our freedom and our health from the coming corona vaccines we must establish a correct education.

This depiction of the virus is a theory. Gaston Naessens invented a powerful microscope that could see these particles in action, and proved virus theory to be a falsehood.

Exosomes (not viruses) are created by your body, based upon internal and external environment, and are part of the body's way of attempting to survive.
